INDEX Author & Subject

Volume 12 1989–1990

Subject Index

Administration

Excellence in Teaching with the Seven Laws — A one-page excerpt from a book of the same name, by Carl Shafer, No. 3. 36

Form an Academic Boosters Club — A high school academic boosters club offers a how-to booklet for $3, by Jo Keifer, No. 2, p. 36

How the Amish Educate Their Children — What we can learn from the successful Amish approach to elementary education, by Douglas Kachel, No. 2, p. 4

School Improvement and After-School Programs — How to deal with the latch-key children problem, by Monica D. Jacoby, No. 2, p. 14

Teachers Believe That They Are Underappreciated, Underrewarded: Give Themselves High Grades — A report for Phi Delta Kappa, by Stanley M. Elam, No. 3, p. 10

Teaching Thinking and Reasoning: Public Relations Considerations — A one-page excerpt from an AASA Critical Issues report, by Robert A. Pauker, No. 1, p. 36

The Top 10 Educational Issues Facing Society in 1990, by William J. Banach, No. 3, p. 27

Wanted: A New Reformation — 95 Educational Theses, by Thomas E. Robinson, No. 3, p. 4

Communication Processes

General

Communication Commentary — A collection of quotes, reviews, comments and tips, by Albert E. Holliday, No. 3, p. 22

Revise the Scope of Your School-Community-Relations Program to Enhance Student Achievement, by Albert E. Holliday, No. 4, p. 4

External

A Focus on Stimulating Educators to Work Closely with Parents and Other Members of the Community — Wisconsin Celebrates the Year of the Family, Part II, by the Wisconsin Dept. of Public Instruction, No. 1, p. 8

Is Parenting Necessary to First-rate Teaching? — An alliance between home and school is essential, by James Comer, No. 1, p. 22

Materials to Strengthen School-Home-Community Cooperation to Benefit Students — Wisconsin Celebrates the Year of the Family, Part III, by the Wisconsin Dept. of Public Instruction, No. 2, p. 24

Try Focus Groups to Learn What Your Community Thinks — An added bonus: a community-wide dialogue about schools, by Jeanne Magmer, No. 3, p. 14

Internal

Establishing a PR Plan for Every School — How to develop effective public relations and marketing plans for individual schools, by the Alaska Dept. of Education, No. 1, p. 4

Recognizing Excellence on All Levels of a School System, by Naomi Zazlow, No. 4, p. 29

A Winning School Climate — A one-page excerpt from a book of the same name, by Jim Sweeney, No. 4, p. 36

Profiles

Highlights for Children — Profile of a magazine with a quiet publishing success story, by Tom White, No. 4, p. 14

The Kansas School Public Relations Association — A profile, by Bob Gast and Vivian Crosby, No. 4, p. 10

Case Studies

Modern Times in Valley Falls — The impact of change on a school district's PR program, by John Mark Dempsey, No. 4, p. 24

The Peter Principle Assistant Principal — A study of an overreaching administrator, by Philip T. West, No. 3, p. 18

A Tug-of-War in Sunshine — A new superintendent deals with an entrenched principal, by Maria M. Shelton, No. 1, p. 28

Shafer, Carl, Excellence in Teaching with the Seven Laws — a one-page excerpt from a book of the same name, No. 3, p. 36

Shelton, Maria M., Case Study: A Tug-of-War in Sunshine — A new superintendent deals with an entrenched principal, No. 1, p. 28

Smith, Colleen, Book Reviews, No. 1, p. 32–33

Steele, Cheryl A., Book Reviews, No. 2, p. 33; No. 3, p. 35

Steller, Arthur W., Book Reviews, No. 1, p. 32; No. 2, p. 34; No. 3, p. 34; No. 4, p. 33

Sweeney, Jim, A Winning School Climate — a one-page excerpt from a book of the same name, No. 4, p. 36

Swink, Esther, Research: What Factors in a School Create Satisfying Home-School-Community Relations?, No. 1, p. 19

Tabarlet, John, Case Study Response: What Is Best for the Students?, response to Vol. 12, No. 2; No. 3, p. 21

West, Philip T., Case Studies: The Peter Principle Assistant Principal — A study of an overreaching administrator, No. 3, p. 18. Research: Years of Employment in Present Positions Have Slight Effect on Task Performance of PR Directors, No. 1, p. 20; How PR Directors and Superintendents Perceive the Role of Teachers in PR, No. 2, p. 11; PR Directors and Superintendents Generally Agree on the Function of Marketing in Public Schools, No. 4 p. 30

West-Johnson, Phylis, Case Study Response: Two Leaders, one image, response to Vol. 12, No. 3; No. 4, p. 27

White, Tom, Highlights for Children — Profile of a magazine with a quiet publishing success story, No. 4, p. 14

Wisconsin Dept. of Public Instruction, Wisconsin Celebrates the Year of the Family, Part II — A focus on stimulating educators to work closely with parents and other members of the community, No. 1, p. 8; Wisconsin Celebrates the Year of the Family, Part III — Materials to strengthen school-home-community cooperation to benefit students, No. 2, p. 24

Zazlow, Naomi, Recognizing Excellence on All Levels of a School System, No. 4, p. 29

Author Index

Alaska Dept. of Education, Establishing a PR Plan for Every School — How to develop effective public relations and marketing plans for individual schools, No. 1, p. 4

Anderson, Ted, Case Study Response: A New Day Dawning in Sunshine, response to Vol. 12, No. 1; No. 2, p. 23

Banach, William J., The Top 10 Educational Issues Facing Society in 1990, No. 3, p. 27

Comer, James, Is Parenting Necessary to First-rate Teaching? — An alliance between home and school is essential, No. 1, p. 22

Crosby, Vivian, Profile: The Kansas School Public Relations Association, No. 4, p. 10

Dempsey, John Mark, Case Study: Modern Times in Valley Falls — The impact of change on a school district's PR program, No. 4, p. 24

Elam, Stanley M., Teachers Believe That They Are Underappreciated, Underrewarded: Give Themselves High Grades—a report for Phi Delta Kappa, No. 3, p. 10

INDEX Author & Subject

Volume 12 1989–1990

Subject Index

Administration

Excellence in Teaching with the Seven Laws — A one-page excerpt from a book of the same name, by Carl Shafer, No. 3. 36

Form an Academic Boosters Club — A high school academic boosters club offers a how-to booklet for $3, by Jo Keifer, No. 2, p. 36

How the Amish Educate Their Children — What we can learn from the successful Amish approach to elementary education, by Douglas Kachel, No. 2, p. 4

School Improvement and After-School Programs — How to deal with the latch-key children problem, by Monica D. Jacoby, No. 2, p. 14

Teachers Believe That They Are Underappreciated, Underrewarded: Give Themselves High Grades — A report for Phi Delta Kappa, by Stanley M. Elam, No. 3, p. 10

Teaching Thinking and Reasoning: Public Relations Considerations — A one-page excerpt from an AASA Critical Issues report, by Robert A. Pauker, No. 1, p. 36

The Top 10 Educational Issues Facing Society in 1990, by William J. Banach, No. 3, p. 27

Wanted: A New Reformation — 95 Educational Theses, by Thomas E. Robinson, No. 3, p. 4

Communication Processes

General

Communication Commentary — A collection of quotes, reviews, comments and tips, by Albert E. Holliday, No. 3, p. 22

Revise the Scope of Your School-Community-Relations Program to Enhance Student Achievement, by Albert E. Holliday, No. 4, p. 4

External

A Focus on Stimulating Educators to Work Closely with Parents and Other Members of the Community — Wisconsin Celebrates the Year of the Family, Part II, by the Wisconsin Dept. of Public Instruction, No. 1, p. 8

Is Parenting Necessary to First-rate Teaching? — An alliance between home and school is essential, by James Comer, No. 1, p. 22

Materials to Strengthen School-Home-Community Cooperation to Benefit Students — Wisconsin Celebrates the Year of the Family, Part III, by the Wisconsin Dept. of Public Instruction, No. 2, p. 24

Try Focus Groups to Learn What Your Community Thinks — An added bonus: a community-wide dialogue about schools, by Jeanne Magmer, No. 3, p. 14

Internal

Establishing a PR Plan for Every School — How to develop effective public relations and marketing plans for individual schools, by the Alaska Dept. of Education, No. 1, p. 4

Recognizing Excellence on All Levels of a School System, by Naomi Zazlow, No. 4, p. 29

A Winning School Climate — A one-page excerpt from a book of the same name, by Jim Sweeney, No. 4, p. 36

Profiles

Highlights for Children — Profile of a magazine with a quiet publishing success story, by Tom White, No. 4, p. 14

The Kansas School Public Relations Association — A profile, by Bob Gast and Vivian Crosby, No. 4, p. 10

Case Studies

Modern Times in Valley Falls — The impact of change on a school district's PR program, by John Mark Dempsey, No. 4, p. 24

The Peter Principle Assistant Principal — A study of an overreaching administrator, by Philip T. West, No. 3, p. 18

A Tug-of-War in Sunshine — A new superintendent deals with an entrenched principal, by Maria M. Shelton, No. 1, p. 28

Shafer, Carl, Excellence in Teaching with the Seven Laws — a one-page excerpt from a book of the same name, No. 3, p. 36

Shelton, Maria M., Case Study: A Tug-of-War in Sunshine — A new superintendent deals with an entrenched principal, No. 1, p. 28

Smith, Colleen, Book Reviews, No. 1, p. 32–33

Steele, Cheryl A., Book Reviews, No. 2, p. 33; No. 3, p. 35

Steller, Arthur W., Book Reviews, No. 1, p. 32; No. 2, p. 34; No. 3, p. 34; No. 4, p. 33

Sweeney, Jim, A Winning School Climate — a one-page excerpt from a book of the same name, No. 4, p. 36

Swink, Esther, Research: What Factors in a School Create Satisfying Home-School-Community Relations?, No. 1, p. 19

Tabarlet, John, Case Study Response: What Is Best for the Students?, response to Vol. 12, No. 2; No. 3, p. 21

West, Philip T., Case Studies: The Peter Principle Assistant Principal — A study of an overreaching administrator, No. 3, p. 18. Research: Years of Employment in Present Positions Have Slight Effect on Task Performance of PR Directors, No. 1, p. 20; How PR Directors and Superintendents Perceive the Role of Teachers in PR, No. 2, p. 11; PR Directors and Superintendents Generally Agree on the Function of Marketing in Public Schools, No. 4 p. 30

West-Johnson, Phylis, Case Study Response: Two Leaders, one image, response to Vol. 12, No. 3; No. 4, p. 27

White, Tom, Highlights for Children — Profile of a magazine with a quiet publishing success story, No. 4, p. 14

Wisconsin Dept. of Public Instruction, Wisconsin Celebrates the Year of the Family, Part II — A focus on stimulating educators to work closely with parents and other members of the community, No. 1, p. 8; Wisconsin Celebrates the Year of the Family, Part III — Materials to strengthen school-home-community cooperation to benefit students, No. 2, p. 24

Zazlow, Naomi, Recognizing Excellence on All Levels of a School System, No. 4, p. 29

Author Index

Alaska Dept. of Education, Establishing a PR Plan for Every School — How to develop effective public relations and marketing plans for individual schools, No. 1, p. 4

Anderson, Ted, Case Study Response: A New Day Dawning in Sunshine, response to Vol. 12, No. 1; No. 2, p. 23

Banach, William J., The Top 10 Educational Issues Facing Society in 1990, No. 3, p. 27

Comer, James, Is Parenting Necessary to First-rate Teaching? — An alliance between home and school is essential, No. 1, p. 22

Crosby, Vivian, Profile: The Kansas School Public Relations Association, No. 4, p. 10

Dempsey, John Mark, Case Study: Modern Times in Valley Falls — The impact of change on a school district's PR program, No. 4, p. 24

Elam, Stanley M., Teachers Believe That They Are Underappreciated, Underrewarded: Give Themselves High Grades—a report for Phi Delta Kappa, No. 3, p. 10

INDEX Author & Subject

Gardner, Brenda P., Research: PR Directors and Superintendents Generally Agree on the Function of Marketing in Public Schools, No. 4, p. 30

Gast, Bob, Profile: The Kansas School Public Relations Association, No. 4, p. 10

Holliday, Albert E., Communication Commentary — A collection of quotes, reviews, comments and tips, No. 3, p. 22; Revise the Scope of Your School Community Relations Program to Enhance Student Achievement, No. 4, p. 4

Jacoby, Monica D., School Improvement and After-School Programs — How to deal with the latch-key children problem, No. 2, p. 14

Kachel, Douglas, How the Amish Educate Their Children — What we can learn from the successful Amish approach to elementary education, No. 2, p. 4

Keifer, Jo, Form an Academic Boosters Club — A high school academic boosters club offers a how-to booklet for $3, No. 2, p. 36

Krals, Susan, Case Study Response: Integrity at High Noon, response to Vol. 11, No. 4; No. 1, p. 31

Magmer, Jeanne, Try Focus Groups to Learn What Your Community Thinks — An added bonus, a community-wide dialogue about schools, No. 3, p. 14

Michel, George J., Research: Superintendents Opt for Conventional Low-Impact School Communication Methods, No. 3, p. 33

Oberg, Terry J., Case Study: When Silence Is Lead, Not Gold — A legal "gag" agreement stifles PR, No. 2, p. 20

Pauker, Robert A., Teaching Thinking and Reasoning: Public Relations Considerations — A one-page excerpt from an AASA Critical Issues report, No. 1, p. 36

Pope, Teddy Laverne Barclay, Research: How PR Directors and Superintendents Perceive the Role of Teachers in PR, No. 2, p. 11

Ray, Kimberly Robinson, Book Reviews, No. 1, p. 32

Robinson, Thomas E., Wanted: A New Reformation — 95 Educational Theses, No. 3, p. 4

When Silence is Lead, Not Gold — A legal "gag" agreement stifles PR, by Terry J. Oberg, No. 2, p. 20

Case Study Responses

Integrity at High Noon, by Susan Krals, response to case study "The Protege" in Vol. 11, No. 4; No. 1, p. 31

A New Day Dawning in Sunshine, by Ted Anderson, response to case study "A Tug-of-War in Sunshine" in Vol. 12, No. 1; No. 2, p. 23

Two Leaders, One Image, by Phylis West-Johnson, response to case study "The Peter Principle Assistant Principal" in Vol. 12, No. 3; No. 4, p. 27

What Is Best for the Students?, by John Tabarlet, response to case study "When Silence is Lead, Not Gold" in Vol. 12, No. 2; No. 3, p. 21

Research

How PR Directors and Superintendents Perceive the Role of Teachers in Public Relations, by Teddy Laverne Barclay and Philip T. West, No. 2, p. 11

PR Directors and Superintendents Generally Agree on the Function of Marketing in Public Schools, by Brenda P. Gardner and Philip T. West, No. 4, p. 30

Superintendents Opt for Conventional Low-Impact School Communication Methods, by George J. Michel, No. 3, p. 33

What Factors in a School Create Satisfying Home-School-Community Relations?, by Esther Swink, No. 1, p. 19

Years of Employment in Present Positions Have Slight Effect on Task Peformance of PR Directors, by Philip T. West, No. 1, p. 20

Book Reviews

By Arthur W. Steller

Dollars for Excellence: Raising Private Money for Private Schools — and Public Schools, Roy Bunce and Stanton Leggett, No. 4, p. 34

Educational Progress: Cities Mobilize to Improve Their Schools, Paul Hill, Arthur Wise and Leslie Shapiro, No. 3, p. 34

How to Create Your Own Fad and Make a Million Dollars, Ken Hakuto, No. 1, p. 32

Inventing Reality: The Politics of the Mass Media, Michael Parenti, No. 4, p. 35

The Japanese School: Lesson for Industrial America, Benjamin Duke, No. 2, p. 34

Last Chance for Our Children, Bill Honig, No. 3, p. 34

The Politics of Education, John Brademan, No. 2, p. 34

Student Achievement Through Staff Development, Bruce Joyce and Beverly Showers, No. 4, p. 33

The Thirteenth Man: A Reagan Cabinet Memoir, Terrel Bell, No. 4, p. 34

Win at the Polls: A Finance Campaign Planner, Gay Campbell and Clement Cleveland, No. 4, p. 33

Winning the Brain Race: A Bold Plan to Make Our Schools Competitive, David Kearns and Dennis Doyle, No. 4, p. 34

Your Are the Message: Secrets of the Master Communicator, Roger Ailes, No. 2, p. 34

Complete Guide to Executive Manners, Letitia Baldrige, No. 2, p. 35

Leadership Secrets of Atilla the Hun, Wess Roberts, No. 3, p. 35

By Colleen Smith

The Best Ideas in Employee Communication: More than 200 Techniques That Work, editors of Communication Briefings, No. 1, p. 33

By Kimberly Robinson Ray

The Law of Student Expulsions and Suspensions, Lawrence F. Rossow, No. 1, p. 32 ■